

Railway employees killed while on duty

This list has been compiled to record railway employees who have lost their lives while on duty in Western Australia.

This list has been updated from that which was provided for the Western Australian wall at the Australian Railway Monument at Werris Creek, New South Wales. The Monument's website can be visited at www.australianrailwaymonument.com.au

Note: It has not been possible to identify all persons who may have died while working for contractors building or working about railways, so this list is as exhaustive as possible for those who were employed by a railway operator at the time of their fatal accident.

This information has been gathered from many sources. Neither Rail Heritage WA nor our volunteer researchers accept responsibility for any errors or omissions, but we would always be grateful to receive any additional information.
