BROWN, Leo John Stephen 26 April 1935

Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Night Stationmaster	Caron	Shunting operations

Leo Brown was 23 years of age when he was crushed between two trucks and critically injured while shunting at Caron on 7 April 1935. Leo died in Morowa Hospital on 26 April 1935. Leo's home was at Inglewood and he was interred at Karrakatta Cemetery (ROMAN CATHOLIC/HA/0283).

Crushed Between Trucks.
A verdict of accidental death was returned by the acting coroner (Mr. G. H. Tilley) on Tuesday1 last at an inquiry at the Courthouse at Morowa into the circumstances attending the death, of Leo John Stephen Brown (23), employed as Night Stationmaster at Caron, who died in the Morowa Hospital on April 26th. The acting coroner found that deceased came by his death from injuries received through being crushed between two trucks during shunting operations at Caron on April 7th. He found that no blame was attachable to anyone.

Source: Trove/Geraldton Guardian and Express (WA) Saturday 11 May 1935 Page 2.