Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Plumber's Assistant	Subiaco	Struck by wagons

Neil "Sam" Colquhoun was 64 years of age and employed as a Plumber's Assistant when he was fatally injured while crossing rails at the Central Railway Yard. Neil left his wife, Maud, and his four adult children Molly, Jim, Jean and Bill. Neil lived at Subiaco and is interred at Karrakatta Cemetery.

RAILWAY YARD FATALITY
While walking across the rails in the Central Railway Yard on May 27 last Neil Colquhoun (64), a plumber's assistant, employed by the Railway Department, was knocked down by a truck and killed. The truck had been shunted from a train and had run about 115 yards when it hit him. His vision was obstructed by an iron grating which he was carrying on his shoulder.

Mr. J. J. Lloyd (Acting Coroner) conducted an inquest this morning and found that death was accidental.
