COSTELLO, William John "Jack" 7 August 1925

Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Labourer	Lake Grace	Fall from ballast train

William Costello was 26 years of age when fell he from a ballast train and was run over. He died instantly. William was a serviceman (Flight Leiutenant - British Air Force) in the Great War. He had no relatives in WA and was interred in the Lake Grace Cemetery.

RAILWAY FATALITY
Man Killed by Ballast Train
According to a telegram received at the Central Police Station, a laborer named William John Costello, on the Lake Grace-Newdegate railway construction job, was run down by a ballast train and killed on Friday last. An inquest has been opened and adjourned.

Source: Trove/Sunday Times (Perth) Sunday 9 August 1925 Page 1.

FAMILY NOTICE
COSTELLO. On August 7, accidentally killed at Lake Grace, William John (Jack) late Flight-Lieutenant in the British Air Force, during the war. Second son Of Captain David Costello, of London.

Source: Trove/Western Mail (Perth) Thursday 27 August 1925 Page 35