GARVEY, George 7 October 1899

Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Car & Wagon Examiner	Fremantle	Shunting operations

Born in Newcastle (Toodyay) in 1861, George Garvey was 38 years of age when he was fatally injured after falling from a wagon during shunting operations at Fremantle. The wagon he was on was struck by a heavier wagon dislodging him onto the track where he was runover. Both of George's legs were severed. He was conscious when taken to the hospital but died a short time later. George lived in Fremantle with his wife Sarah Ann and their four surviving children aged 6 to 14. He was interred at Fremantle Cemetery (ROMAN CATHOLIC/Mon C/0080).

In December of 1899 the Lyric Entertainment Club held a variety event to raise funds for the care and welfare of George's children.

Terrible Accident.
At Fremantle. Man's Legs Cut Off. PERTH, 2 p.m.
A terrible shunting accident occurred at the South Mole, Fremantle, this morning. The victim was George Garvey, a carriage examiner. He was standing on a truck, when owing to the wind he did not hear a second truck approaching. A heavy truck struck the one he was standing on and Garvey lost his balance and fell between the wagons. One leg was cut off above the knee and the other below the knee.

Garvey was removed to the hospital. He was quite conscious when taken up. (i)
