CITY FINAL
Burned Men On Danger List
Three of seven men splashed with molten metal in the Midland Workshops' iron foundry yesterday are dangerously ill. Condition of two more, who were reported seriously ill yesterday, have shown very slight improvement while the two others left a Midland Junction private hospital yesterday afternoon.

Names of Arthur Henry Green, of Beechboro Road, Bassendean, James Christian Hynam, of Peninsula Road, Maylands and George Arnott Ross, of Morrison Road, Midland Junction are on the danger list.

About 1 p.m. yesterday a stoppage occurred between the cupola and receiver of a furnace. When endeavoring to remedy the blockage, workmen began dropping the bottom of the furnace. Molten metal was where it was not expected to be and splashed out.

Seriously ill are: Stephen Keane Minchin, of Swan Street, Middle Swan, and Eugene Eagles (foreman), of Ninth Avenue, Maylands. Reuben Schenberg, of Joel Terrace, Mt. Lawley, and William Thomas Hyde, of Helena Street, Bellevue, were less severely burnt and left hospital yesterday.
