HENNESSY, John Pope 21 January 1916

Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Time Keeper	Karonie TAR	Per Way tricycle and train collision

John Hennessey died instantly when his motorised tricycle ran into the rear of a coach when the train he was following stopped unexpectedly. John lived in Kalgoorlie with his wife Eva and their infant daughter. He was interred in the Catholic portion of the Kalgoorlie Cemetery.

FAMILY NOTICE
HENNESSY. On the 21st January, 1916, accidentally killed on the Trans-Australian Railway, 86 Mile, John P. Hennessy. 'Oh-!.' Immaculate Heart of Mary, Your prayers for him extol; Oh! Sacred Heart of Jesus, Have mercy on his soul. Inserted by his sorrowful wife and infant daughter.

Source: Trove/Kalgoorlie Miner (WA) Monday 24 January 1916 Page 4.

FUNERAL NOTICES.
HENNESSY.The friends of Mrs. Eva Hennessy, are respectfully informed that the remains of her late beloved husband, John Pope Hennessy, late timekeeper on the Trans-Australia Railway, will be removed from Messrs. Mannion and Cruse's private mortuary, Hannan Street, at 4.30 (o'clock) today (Sunday) January 23, 1916, for interment in the Catholic portion of the Kalgoorlie Cemetery .
Mannion and Cruse, Undertakers.

Source: Trove/The Sun (Kalgoorlie) Sunday 23 January 1916 Page 1.

KALGOORLIE INQUEST
An inquest was held on Friday concerning the death of John Hennessy, who was killed on the Trans-Australian Railway whilst riding motor tricycle, which came into collision with a train. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Source: Trove/Western Mail (Perth) Friday 11 February 1916 Page 33.