O'BRIEN, John 30 November 1904

Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Fettler	Bayswater	Struck by passing train

John O'Brien was 59 years of age when he was struck and killed while engaged in track repair work at Bayswater. John is thought to have misunderstood shouted warnings of an approaching train and was struck by the engine as it passed. John lived in Perth and was interred at Karrakatta Cemetery (ROMAN CATHOLIC/AA/0095).

A FETTLER KILLED
Between Bayswater and Woodbridge railway a fettler named John O'Brien was killed by a train proceeding in the direction of Perth.

Author's note: An inquest was held in December 1904but the outcome is not known.

Source: Trove/Laverton Mercury (Laverton) Friday 2 December 1904 Page 3.