SULLIVAN, Patrick 1 July 1921

Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Ganger	Coolgardie	Per Way Tricycle/Train collision

Patrick Sullivan (also reported as O'Sullivan) was fatally injured when his per way trolley was overtaken by a special train while he was on his way home to Coolgardie. He died later in the Kalgoorlie Hospital. Patrick's family lived at West Perth and he was interred in the Roman Catholic portion of the Kalgoorlie Cemetery.

RAILWAY GANGER KILLED.
Kalgoorlie March 1.
While riding today on a railway tricycle between Coolgardie and Kalgoorlie, Patrick O'Sullivan a ganger, was overtaken by a train and knocked off his machine. He was conveyed was conveyed to the Kalgoorlie Hospital, where he died tonight. It is said that the family of the deceased man resides in West Perth.

Source: Trove/The West Australian (Perth) Wednesday 2 March 1921 Page 6.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT
DEATH OF A GANGER.
The Kalgoorlie police authorities received a message from Dr. Mathews, D.M.O., at 8.10 o'clock last night, stating that a man from Coolgardie, who had been admitted to the Government Hospital at Kalgoorlie, died at about 7.15 o'clock the same evening. He could not say what was the name of the man nor who had brought him to the institution. The man suffered from a broken arm and a broken leg, and died a little while after admission to the hospital, apparently from shock. The doctor understood that the man was knocked off a tricycle by a train travelling on the railway near Coolgardie. The Coroner, Mr. W. L. Owen, who was notified, ordered a post mortem examination of the remains to be made, and gave instructions for an inquest to be held at 11 o'clock this morning. Telephone communication was subsequently made with Constable Clements, of Coolgardie, who stated that the deceased was named Patrick O'Sullivan, a ganger on the railway, who was returning on a tricycle to his home late in the afternoon. He was overtaken by a special train from Kalgoorlie in a cutting three miles from Coolgardie, and knocked off his machine. He was picked up by the trainmen, who returned with him to Kalgoorlie, where he was taken in an ambulance to the hospital. Constable Clements stated that the deceased was a married man, whose wife and family resided at 15 Cowle-street, West Perth. The police authorities would be pleased if any friend or acquaintance of the deceased will call at the station at as early an hour as possible this morning for the purpose of identifying the remains, which are now in the mortuary at the Government Hospital.

Source: Trove/Kalgoorlie Miner (WA) Wednesday 2 March 1921 Page 4.

FUNERAL NOTICE
O'SULLIVAN .The friends of the late Patrick O'Sullivan are respectfully informed that his remains will be removed from Messrs., Mannion and Cruse' s Private Mortuary, Hannan Street, at 11 o'clock this day (Thursday), for interment in the Catholic portion of the Kalgoorlie Cemetery.
Mannion and Cruse, Undertakers, Hannan Street. . Tel. 327.

Source: Trove/Kalgoorlie Miner (WA) Thursday 3 March 1921 Page 4.