TIGHE, James 22 September 1915

Designation	Accident Location	Accident Due to
Fettler	Northampton	Unloading Ballast

James Tighe was a young man in his twenties when he was fatally injured during shunting and ballasting operations at Northampton. James lived at Geraldton but there is no indication as to where he was buried.

NORTHAMPTON.
During shunting operations in the station yard on Wednesday, James Tighe had his left leg severed near the knee joint, and his right foot badly crushed. Dr. Boyd did all that was possible for the sufferer, who was sent to Geraldton by a train that happened to be waiting despatch. Tighe, however, died the same evening.
